BECOME AN EXCEPTIONAL EXECUTIVE LEADER

Are you an executive leader with responsibility for leading several schools?

This new programme uses evidence-based learning to help you become an outstanding leader who can drive change and improvement across your group of schools or multi-academy trust.

BENEFITS FOR EXECUTIVE LEADERS

> Learn from the best

Join one-to-one coaching sessions where you'll get advice and support from experienced executive leaders.

> Become an expert

Develop a robust knowledge base on all areas of executive leadership and apply this learning to your school context to help your staff and pupils thrive.

> Train to your timetable

This programme is delivered in short, bite-sized chunks to fit around your existing role and commitments.

> Form a strong support network

Connect with other school leaders, share your collective expertise and build a tight-knit network with people who face the same challenges as you.

BENEFITS FOR SCHOOLS OR TRUST

> Tailored to your specific needs

Rather than focus on generic personality traits, the new NPQs focus on the knowledge your leaders need to tackle the persistent problems of their daily roles.

> Share a common knowledge base

National Professional Qualifications are aligned. So all educators will be working to the same framework and be able to share a common language for developing a school or trust.

> Engage your workforce

Talented executive leaders can inspire and give teachers the chance to develop. This creates an engaged workforce and will help you deliver higher staff retention.

> Gain expert knowledge

This programme is led by experts, giving your executive leaders the chance to connect with a network of talented educators and put what they learn into practice at your organisation.
